4. Two masts about 6 meters high were observed in the extension of the runway, about 200 meters east of the road leading from Straguth to the south, to the Zerbst-Dobritz road. The masts were connected by an antenna and braced by four guy wires each at their tips and mid-heights. One masthead was connected by a wire with a radio truck parked between the two masts. The other masthead was connected by a wire with a third mast which was about 6 meters high and was fitted with braces. ** A radio installation with four masts was observed in the open field about 2 km east of the other installation. ***

* Comment. Since 2 October 1951, Zerbst airfield has been occupied by two fighter regiments which were previously stationed in Koethen. The transfer of the two regiments was previously reported.

** Comment. The purpose of this radio installation has not been determined. Between 8 and 10 October 1951, a radio installation consisting of one mast and a radio truck, probably a landing beacon, was observed at this location. The new installation is believed unserviceable as a landing beacon. The third mast located apart is not a radio mast.

*** Comment. This radio installation is probably an Adcock DF station.
